

Your Task

Read the following paragraph. Read it only once. Pay attention to the details. At the end of activity, we will ask you questions to test your recall.

The Wooden Horse

My Swedish friends recently gave me a wooden Dala horse, an attractive souvenir of their country. They told me that these horses were originally carved by loggers in the 18th century. They are now found in many Swedish villages. The Swedes like horses because they pull logs in the Winter and help the farmers in the Summer. The horses are carved from odd pieces of wood with simple tools. The horses are painted in the same Dala style as used to decorate the interior walls of Swedish houses. My horse is painted red with yellow and green flowers.

Your Task

Read the following paragraph. Read it only once. As you read, mentally count the number of times doubled letters occur in the passage. (Example: letters, occur).

The Wooden Horse

My Swedish friends recently gave me a wooden Dala horse, an attractive souvenir of their country. They told me that these horses were originally carved by loggers in the 18th century. They are now found in many Swedish villages. The Swedes like horses because they pull logs in the Winter and help the farmers in the Summer. The horses are carved from odd pieces of wood with simple tools. The horses are painted in the same Dala style as used to decorate the interior walls of Swedish houses. My horse is painted red with yellow and green flowers.

Your Tasks

Read the following paragraph. Read it only once. Pay attention to the details. At the end of activity, we will ask you questions to test your recall. Also, as you read, mentally count the number of times doubled letters occur in the passage. (Example: letters, occur).

The Wooden Horse

My Swedish friends recently gave me a wooden Dala horse, an attractive souvenir of their country. They told me that these horses were originally carved by loggers in the 18th century. They are now found in many Swedish villages. The Swedes like horses because they pull logs in the Winter and help the farmers in the Summer. The horses are carved from odd pieces of wood with simple tools. The horses are painted in the same Dala style as used to decorate the interior walls of Swedish houses. My horse is painted red with yellow and green flowers.